Minerals to combat over-acidification

A natural alkali powder is an effective treatment to alleviate surplus acidity in the body.

Meat, fish, eggs, cereals, pizza and many other foods increased the acidity in the body. Infection and inflammation occur much more easily in an over-acidified environment.

“Hyperacidity” is also important when losing weight. This is because the body protects its organs from acidity by storing fat. Therefore: Excess acid means that fat deposits are harder to break down.

The solution is simple: Ensuring that the diet is filled with more fruit and vegetables. And occasionally following an alkaline regime lasting a month in order to keep the body in balance.
